

Asya Gribov

347-740-2246
asya.gribov@gmail.com
242 East 4th St, Brooklyn, NY 11218

EXPERIENCE

The Jewish Museum

Freelance Educator, School and Family Programs

August 2018 - present

- Develop and lead educational experiences for school groups (K-12) and family programs
- Initiated Russian language programming for community organizations and continually broaden audience reach to visitors interested in Russian language experiences
- Develop and lead virtual museum programs for schools and organizations across the United States and Canada

NIA Community Services Network

Educational Consultant

April 2017 - present

- Facilitate professional development workshops for teachers, after-school support, and program managers
Topics include: 21st Century Skills Through the Arts; How Kids Learn; Educational Games
- Provide ongoing support for classroom teachers in lesson innovation that connect creativity with curriculum standards
- Develop unique workshops, art kits, and learning resources for students and families that promote creativity and critical thinking through the visual arts

Museum of Modern Art

Freelance Educator, School Programs

September 2017- March 2020

- Developed and implement single and multi-part programs for K-12 school audiences
- Collaborated with school teachers to develop lesson plans that are relevant to classroom curricula
- Worked collaboratively with educators and education program staff to continuously update interpretive ideas and inquiry-based teaching strategies around the exhibitions

Foundation for Jewish Camp

Educational Consultant, Presenter

January 2014- present

- Facilitate trainings and education workshops for summer camp staff at the Cornerstone Fellowship Seminar
- Design and implement staff development programs on: working with young campers; integrating the arts into camp
- Present at annual Jewish camp conference

PJ Library; Harold Grinspoon Foundation

Engagement Consultant for North American Russian-speaking Initiative

April 2014- June 2018

- Oversaw grant funded initiatives of 11 organizations across North America in outreach and program implementation
- Advised communities in creating innovative, yearlong curriculum for families integrating Jewish content into experiential family education programs
- Provided in depth evaluations and reports to funding organizations regarding grant implementation and outcomes
- Researched, planned, and coordinated the expansion and launch of engagement grants across North America
- Facilitated information-sharing among programs with the goal of leveraging best practices and content across partners

EDUCATION

CUNY Hunter College, New York, NY. June 2015

M.A.: Childhood Education

CUNY Hunter College, New York, NY June 2006

Bachelor's Degree: Psychology; Religion

Minor: Art History

ADDITIONAL SKILLS

Fluent in Russian

Proficient in MS Office

Knowledgeable about MoMA collection